The Best Ideas Live Above The Noise

In 2016, a group of Australian investors had a simple idea: what if the world's best fund managers shared their highest conviction idea with all proceeds going to medical research?

Ten years later, Sohn Hearts & Minds, alongside its charitable listed investment company HMI, has donated over $90 million for Australian medical research, welcomed the world's greatest investors and thought leaders to its stage, and attracted a room representing over $1 trillion in investable capital.

For global leaders, there is no faster or more credible entry into the Australian market. For Australians, it is a rare seat amongst the minds shaping global capital.

This is not a finance event. It is a philanthropic platform that has earned the trust of the world's best, and put it to work.
